

VETASSESS Update: Pause in acceptance of new applications for Diesel Motor Mechanics and Motor Mechanic (General)

Dear Members

Please be advised that as of Monday 25 September 2023, VETASSESS will pause its acceptance of new applications for the trade occupations of:

- Diesel Motor Mechanic, ANZSCO Code 321212
- Motor Mechanic (General), ANZSCO Code 321211

VACC has been advised this is to allow VETASSESS time to process a high number of existing applications.

It is not currently known when applications will reopen, however, VACC will advise members accordingly.

What to do if you have already lodged an application?

If a member has already lodged an application with VETASSESS, you do not need to take any action. The application will be processed.

What to do if you need to lodge an application?

There are alternative skills assessment providers still accepting applications for the above occupations.

These include:

- Trades Recognition Australia: <https://www.tradesrecognitionaustralia.gov.au/skills-assessment>
- Australian Trade Training College: <https://attc.org.au/skills-assessment/>
