Call for interested MID Members to help shape future direction

Dear MID Member,

VACC has 16 Divisional Committees that represent different sectors of the automotive industry.

The Motorcycle Industry Division (MID), is a VACC Division representing Victorian motorcycle dealers, repair shops and accessory outlets. MID supports members' business activities by identifying issues impacting members and working with government, authorities and the community to rectify them. An Industry Policy Advisor works with the MID Executive Committee to support member businesses.

The motorcycle industry is experiencing great change, including consumer demands, engineering design and evolving regulation. These factors affect the way small-and medium-sized businesses operate. Through Committees, a targeted position can be delivered to government, so that the impact of its actions is understood. VACC fights for its members on key policy issues generated and driven through Committees. Employer input into Committees is crucial to ensure the industry has a leading voice.

Business owners operating in the motorcycle sales and service sector represent the industry on the MID Divisional Committee. Key functions of the Committee include sharing information and raising issues affecting the industry, which may include franchising, regulation, licensing, apprenticeships, land access, and issues existing where legislation differs across state borders. Issues raised in Committees help form VACC's work, including setting policy positions for government and regulators.

VACC is calling for any MID member to join the Executive Committee to help shape the future direction of the motorcycle industry. Members are able to attend any upcoming meetings if they wish, before they make a decision about if they want to serve on the committee.
