Message from VACC's President Chris Hummer

Geoff Gwilym announces retirement from CEO role

Today VACC CEO Geoff Gwilym announced his impending retirement from his role at VACC effective February 2025.

Geoff has advised myself and the VACC Board of his decision. Plans for a search and recruitment strategy will shortly be enacted.

This decision comes following 10 years of dedicated service to VACC and its members. Geoff thanks the Board, VACC staff and its members for their leadership and engagement over the past decade.

Geoff will work closely with the Board in transitioning-in a new CEO over the coming months and is confident the Board selection processes will locate the best possible candidate to lead the most stable and active automotive association in Australia.

On behalf of myself and the VACC Board, I would like to acknowledge and thank Geoff for his outstanding stewardship of the organisation over the ten years.

Chris Hummer
President
